Memorial Hall

The Council is committed to providing high quality entertainment and leisure facilities in Northwich; which will also contribute to the major regeneration proposals for the town. Cheshire West and Chester Council has decided to replace the Memorial Hall with a new facility on the site of the Memorial Hall and Magistrates court. The new building is planned to open in January 2015.

The Council will keep you informed and consulted from now until the new building is open through the Northwich Guardian, Weaver Valley Partnership and council websites, leaflets, exhibitions and meetings.

A public consultation will commence this April through May on the draft proposals for the scheme which currently includes a pool, events and entertainment venue, gym, space for sports, dance studios and squash courts.

The outline design currently includes a permanent stage, dressing rooms and bars and kitchen.

Following the opening of the new facility the Pool, gym and squash courts at Moss Farm will be decommissioned. The future use of the pool building at Moss Farm will be decided following consultation with users but the Council is clear that Moss Farm is to continue as a top quality outdoor facility. There are to be no changes because of the move to the new building until it is open in January 2015.

In order to meet the timescale for the opening of the new facility the Memorial Hall will need to close in February 2013.

It is not practical to keep the Memorial Hall open whilst construction works are taking place on the rest of the site; and phasing the works would mean that it would take longer to build the new facility.

The Council and Brio Leisure (who operate the Council's leisure facilities) will work with user groups at the Memorial Hall between now and the end of this year to try and re-home them during the time that the Memorial Hall is closed. We are also looking at the possibility of providing a temporary venue.

There will be a public competition led by the Weaver Valley Partnership between the end of February and the end of March to find a name for the new building; with a decision by the end of May.

This is a sensitive subject and we will consult the ex-services organisations and the Merchant Navy (together with the community of Northwich) on how the new Building and it's surroundings can continue to be used in commemoration of those who have died in conflict.

Some key indicative dates for the proposals are:

- Meet and discuss the implications of the proposals with users and neighbouring residents at the Memorial Hall and Moss Farm in mid-February 2012
- Have a community competition on the new name between the end of February and end of March 2012 (with a decision by the end of May 2012)
- First round of public consultation on the design of the new building between April and end of May 2012

- Demolition of the Magistrates Court between July and September 2012
- Second phase of public consultation on design December 2012 to February 2013
- Memorial Hall closes February 2013
- Site preparation (asbestos investigations, service disconnection etc) and construction of the new building March 2013 – Dec 2015
- Planning application March 2013 which will also provide further opportunity for consultation (with a decision expected by end of June 2013)
- Demolition of the Memorial Hall between July and September 2013
- Construction of the new building between July 2013 and December 2014
- The new building opens in January 2015
